JONATHAN R. DAVIS is a Senior Associate in our Litigation Department where his practice focuses on all aspects of community association law, real estate, construction and general civil litigation. Jonathan has significant experience representing homeowners and community associations in real estate and construction defect litigation, including management of statutory pre-litigation investigations, repair procedures and assisting partners with trial preparation.

When it comes to litigation, the stakes and emotions tend to run high so you want your legal representative to have an abundance of patience and resilience while representing your case. Jonathan has built his reputation on being able to effectively argue and negotiate with dignity and professionalism.

“An effective litigator must balance being firm and confident in one’s position, while remaining professional and collegial when interfacing with someone with opposing interests, including those who take a more hostile tone.”

One of the ways he’s able to accomplish that is to also maintain a balance between work and home life which includes travel and a love of architecture and photography.

After receiving his Bachelor’s Degree with Honors from The Ohio State University, Jonathan moved west to earn his J.D. at the University of Southern California Law School. He was admitted to the State Bar of California in 2010 and Nevada in 2014. Prior to joining R|O, Jonathan was of counsel with a Los Angeles-based construction defect litigation law firm, handling complex real estate and construction defect matters.

Jonathan is a member of the Los Angeles County Bar Association, the Pasadena Bar Association and the State Bar of Nevada.
